DEMOCRATIC MASS Meeting at NEW ALBANY.

There was an outpouring of the gallant democracy of our sister State of Indiana, yesterday, at New Albany. Owing to an accident which threw the train of cars on the New Albany and Salem road off the track, Gov. Willard and Senators Bright and Pugh did not reach there in time, and consequently did not speak as expected. An audience of many thousands was in waiting with warm hearts, with banners and with music to welcome their gallant leaders. After waiting until 12 o'clock, Q. C. Grasty, Esq., of our city, was called for and introduced to the audience. Mr. Grasty, in a brief but eloquent address, spoke words of good cheer to our noble brothers of Indiana, and pledged the Democracy of Old Kentucky to shake hands with all Hoosierdom over a glorious victory in November. Mr. Grasty's speech was loudly applauded.

Gov. Wright next took the stand, and in a speech of matchless eloquence and power, portrayed the danger of Black Republicanism. It was one of the very best speeches we have heard, and like all good Democratic speeches was uniting to any latitude of this wide-spread Union of ours.

Gov. Wright almost ignored the existence of Mr. Had to reason to complain of inattention, and we fancy Woolley hasn't got such a searching Fillmore, but the friends of the woolly horseman for many a long day. Our Kentucky friends may set Willard's election down as certain and the Constitutional Union candidates, Buck and Beck, by a majority of 30,000.

returning redguards.

The lion, Charles J. Jenkins, late Know Nothing candidate for Governor of Mississippi at the last election, has recently declared he can't go the Fillmore ticket, and announced his determination to support Buchanan and Breckinridge.

These are but a few. We could fill our paper with names of distinguished leaders of the K. N. party who battled against the Democracy last year, who now repudiate the Fillmore and Donelson ticket, and split upon the contemptible Abolition platform, upon which the fact that sustain them North stand. Will Southern Know Nothings disregard the warning voice of their own leaders and obey rather the mandates of the abolition allies at the North. The time has come for that state of mine.

The New York Evangelist, a pretended religious, but really a Black Republican campaign sheet, gives an account of a late interview between a half-dozen preachers in New York, with Colonel Fremont, upon the subject of his religion. He told his inquisitors that he had always been an Episcopalian, and was born and reared in that church. Per contra, the St. Louis Pilot says that in 1835, he, Fremont, was in the city, and that he was then looked upon by all Catholics as in full communion with their church, and that he went regularly to confession and communion. It gives the name of a young gentleman (Flandrin) authority for the statement. Flandrin, at that time associated with Fremont, in the Pilot throws great doubt upon Fremont's veracity.

ABOLITION DESIRE TO DEPOSE THE ALMIGHTY.—The Richmond Dispatch, commenting on Berlin's declaration that "we must have an anti-slavery constitution, an anti-slavery Bible, and an anti-slavery God," says: "All three are against abolitionism, and therefore it calls new ones. It seeks to depose the Almighty from his throne, and place upon it an abolition God—in other words, the devil, who was the first rebel, and the father of abolitionists. The French, in the phreny of their revolutionary madness, deified a prostitute. The black Republicans would go as far—would deprive the Almighty of his sceptre, and place Satan or Giddings on the seat of universal empire. We rather suspect they will meet with indifferent luck. We don't wonder that they want another God, for they have nothing to hope from the God of the Bible, for their great capitals failed in their attempt at abolishing the ruler of the universe, and they are not likely to be more successful."

ELECTIONS IN OCTOBER.—Florida votes October 6th, and Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and South Carolina, on the 14th of October. These states are all that vote until after the Presidential election.

William Cary Jones, a brother-in-law of Fremont, is out in a strong article to the public giving reasons why Fremont should not be elected. It is a strong article that all his near kinsmen, who know the man and his qualifications, are opposed to him.

THE BLACK REPUBLICANS FOR NEGRO SUFFRAGE.—At Bucyrus a large number of negroes were in procession at a Fremont meeting. Chase made a speech, and assured these darkies that the time was not far distant when they could not only march in procession but vote also.

FROST IN MISSOURI.—The Jefferson (Mo.) Inquirer of Wednesday says: "For the last two mornings we have had heavy falls of frost, and vegetation begins to show signs of the frost king having been around."

The Brunsicker (Missouri), of the 20th inst., says the farmers are now busily engaged in cutting their tobacco crop. The early planting is now ripe, is very good, and has been but little disfigured by the worms, hail or wind. The late tobacco will require at least three weeks yet to mature. Should there be no frost in that time, there will be something over a half crop raised in that section.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. N. F. Shannon, for several years conductor on the Lexington and Frankfort Railroad, left this place on Monday evening, on horseback, for his residence, some eight or nine miles in the country. Soon after passing the toll gate on the Louisville turnpike, he was thrown from his horse and mortally injured. He was carried to the house of Mr. White, the gate-keeper, and every attention paid to him which his situation required, but he died about 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

MOORE EMPLOYMENT.—An Ex-President of the United States, who desires a re-election, is using the franking privilege to direct his own life.

'Round Town—Sights and Scenics.

A pleasant Sabbath evening a very short time since, we found ourselves strutting up Main street, meditating as we went upon the mutability of all earthly things, and "mixing up" in our mind a variety of subjects, distasteful, but those sadly degenerate times often found side by side, check by jowl, in cynical companionship. It seemed to us—as we thought—as we went, that the world was getting to be thoroughly possessed with the idea of "popular sovereignty." The crowded heads of the old world, in their stiff buckram addresses to their subjects, talk of "our good people," "our loyal subjects," and when an intense royal demagogue whose seat is any thing but secure, wishes to come it strong, he will, as old Louis Philippe used to do, even shake hands with a footman, and call him "fellow-citizen." There is a power in that little phrase, we confess, nor has the world yet but half underrated it. A few years since the venerable President of the University of Turin took it into his head to publish a pamphlet which Mr. Pius, the superannuated old fogey known as the Pope, (not our worthy Chancellor; "Sam" forbid!) but the old gentleman of whom the Know-Nothingers are so much afraid, thought betwixt; consequently he issued out a bull to gone down the wrong-headed Professor, but he wouldn't be bullied down. He stood out against the terrible animal and boldly appealed to "his fellow-citizens," nor did he appeal in vain. The Pope and his bull had to back down; "fellow-citizen" was too much for him.

We were thinking, too, as we walked along of a sermon we heard the same day, in which the preacher told us how the Savior of the world had appealed to his "fellow-citizens." It struck us as a little odd at the time, but perhaps he was right. He told his congregation how Jesus did miracles except in his native city, where once when he successfully disputed with the more learned of the elders and rulers, scribes and pharisees, they were angered with him and wanted to put him over a steep place, but he appealed to his fellow-citizens, escaped out of their hands, and departed where they had more faith.

"Fellow-citizen" is sweet to the tongue of the politician, and we suppose preachers have as much right to the good things of life, (so far as words go at least) as another. But, as we said, it does sound odd-like; unless, perhaps, in a Sharpe's rifle sermon or "Parker stew."

The levelling comprehensiveness of the two words fellow-citizen are still capable of further condensation. The word voter, as represented in a group which arrested our attention near the corner of Fourth and Main streets did it.

Broadstuffs.

Private advice from Liverpool by the Canada, state that the panic in the Broadstuff market at Liverpool had subsided, and the market closed steady at a further decline of 6d per lb on flour, from the previous Tuesday. Wheat and corn were unchanged.

The Tobacco Crop.

Advices by mail and telegraph, from Virginia, Kentucky, and Tennessee, report a severe white frost in these States last Sunday night, which has materially injured the growing tobacco. This news has produced a great deal of excitement in the leading markets for leaf tobacco, and prices are generally 1c per pound higher.

The first Kentucky State Fair commences on the Bourbon Fair Grounds near Paris, on Tuesday next, and will continue during the week.

EMBRACE EVERY OPPORTUNITY.—Dr. Hurley, who is always on the lookout to ship his Sarapilla, intends to send several hundred boxes by the flatboats to day. The Doctor has at least one thousand orders waiting shipment.

The Concert advertised by Profs. Ellis and Golden, did not come off last night at Historicon Hall. Its failure was owing to the want of patronage. These gentlemen design holding forth to-night at Historicon Hall, and we hope they will meet with better luck.

"WE'LL HAVE A LITTLE DANCE."—Prof. West's opening party comes off this afternoon at Olds' Fellows Hall at 4 o'clock. Parents will bear the fact in mind, and have their "lit de d'arlings" rigged out in the latest fashions.

PINK MILLINERY.—Mrs. A. R. Jackson, Fourth street between Market and Jefferson, has one of the finest millinery establishments in the city. She invites the ladies of Louisville to call and examine her goods, and feels confident she can please the most fastidious. Her prices are reasonable.

On Friday evening, says the Schemonta, a fluid lamp exploded on a canal boat, west of Cranoe Village, and the wife and child of the captain were instantly enveloped in flames. The captain seized his child and threw it overboard, and then turned his attention for a moment to his wife. The child sank and was drowned; the woman was so badly burned that no hopes were entertained of her recovery.

KENTUCKY (METHODIST) CONFERENCE.—This body met at Winchester on Wednesday of last week and sat until Tuesday of this week. Bishop Early presided. The attendance was unusually large, and business was harmoniously and satisfactorily conducted. The Missionary collection was near $400. The other collections usually taken up at conference were proportionately large. The next session of the Conference will be held in Lexington.

Mozart Hall.—Dr. E. BEALE'S ARCTIC PANORAMA is highly delightful and instructing the multitude, who eagerly flock to this popular place of amusement. No exhibition has given more general satisfaction or elicited so much profound admiration. The icy barrier forming the Temperate and Frigid Zones is now broken by the advance of discovery and art, and within our own houses, as it were, we see those majestic regions which history has taught us were the terror of mortals.

"There through the icy forest half absorbed, rough-hewn of these shades, the shapes bear, With hoofs of iron, and with heads of stone, Snow-paced, and roar as the storms increase, His makes his bulk beneath the inclemency drift, And through the paths of tempest, and complaint, Hardest his heart against assault want."

There will be an exhibition this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

THEATRE.—A brilliant, beautiful and numerous audience assembled at the Theatre last night on the occasion of the benefit of Miss Matilda Heron. While Miss Heron may well be proud of this substantial testimonial, it was but a just tribute to a gifted lady. The eye and sense of the observer never tired when present at a representation which calls forth the beauty and fashion of Louisville, and the artiste may very justly be proud of such an assemblage as greeted Miss Heron on her benefit night.

We have not time to portray the enthusiasm with which her difficult and varied personages were greeted, but can only advise our readers to witness a repetition of the same tragedy and drama to-night, which is the last appearance of this celebrated and popular actress.

CHICKENS.—The sporting season has fairly begun in Iowa. The "Port Dodge Sennel" of the 4th inst., thus speaks on the subject:
